

Cookie Policy

Our website uses cookies to collect the following information about you:

- Tracking data on how you use our website.

It does not include any personally identifying information about you or your location, and all data is collected in an anonymised form. It does include:

If you've visited our site before
How long you spend on our site
What pages you look at
Which site referred you to us
The general area of the world you are from
Basic details about your device (device type, browser version)

We use this information to help us improve our website by identifying ways in which your experience could be better and to improve your user experience. We will not contact you regarding this data, or use the data to identify you.

This information is collated using Google Analytics, and used for remarketing purposes through Google AdWords and other third party services. Google does not share this data with any other entity.

If you do not want this data to be collected by ourselves and Google, you can opt out of all Google Analytics tracking across all websites by visiting the following link:

<http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>

Should you wish to opt-out of data collection across other services, you can decline the acceptance of cookies when you enter this website. In addition, most web browsers allow some control of most cookies through the browser settings. To find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit <https://www.allaboutcookies.org>

Third Party Companies

In addition to using cookies and related technologies as described above, we may permit certain third party companies to help us tailor advertising that we think may be of interest to you and to collect and use other data about user activities on our websites (e.g., to allow them to tailor ads on third party services). These companies may deliver ads that might also place cookies and otherwise track user behaviour. These companies may use information about user behaviour in order to provide customised advertisements across various services and products. In the course of providing these services, products or placing advertisements, these third party companies may place or recognise a unique cookie on your computer, and may record information to these cookies based upon your activities on our website and on third party websites. Each of these companies uses this cookie information according to their own privacy and security policies. If you wish to not have this information used for the purpose of serving you targeted ads, you may opt-out as indicated in this Policy. Please note this does not opt you out of being delivered advertising. You will continue to receive generic ads
